Mission Statement of the Naval Aviation Society of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University

First and foremost, we are midshipmen in the United States Navy, representing not only the Virginia Tech Corps of Cadets, but also Navy ROTC. We are subject to the rules and regulations provided by the University, the Corps of Cadets, and the Uniform Code of Military Justice. We seek direction by Active Duty personnel who direct operations in the Virginia Tech Naval ROTC.

Our mission of the Naval Aviation Society is to:

- Equip fellow midshipmen with essential knowledge necessary to be competitive on the Aviation Selection Test Battery (ASTB)
- Assist midshipmen in gaining essential knowledge with regards to physical qualification standards to become a Student Naval Aviator (SNA)
- Develop a basic understanding of each platform’s mission in the Naval Inventory. This will assist midshipmen in determining whether he/she wants to service select Pilot or NFO, when the time comes
- Promote “Espirit de Corps” within the society and to discuss the lifestyle of a Naval Aviator
- Educate future SNA with what to expect when they report for training at NAS Pensacola
The Chain of Command of Naval Aviation Society is as Follows:

- Commanding Officer of NROTC Virginia Tech
- Executive Officer NROTC Virginia Tech
- OIC for Naval Aviation Society
- MIDN Commanding Officer
- MIDN Executive Officer
- MIDN Chief
- MIDN Tap OIC
